

SHOE EXHIBITS HERE BREAK ALL RECORDS IN STATE

Displays in Armory During Convention Rival National Meetings

Monday will see the completion of details connected with the convention of the Wisconsin Shoe Retailers association which opens here Tuesday and continues for three days. With more than 500 delegates and their wives coming, the task of preparation has been huge.

The armory has been a beehive of industry all week with carpenters and tanners working to convert the huge hall into an exhibition building and buying market. Most of the booths received their finishing touches during the day, and representatives of the various manufacturing houses and jobbing firms are here to arrange their displays. Large numbers of sample trunks have been arriving on express trains, containing the latest word in footwear for fall and winter.

BIGGEST EVER TRIED
Nothing ever has been attempted by the state association like this year's exposition feature. The armory is to be placed before the small merchant a display of shoes such as the large dealers see in their visits to Chicago and New York every year and which small merchants cannot afford to visit. The booths are designed and built on exactly the same plan as at the national convention, and the exhibit here will resemble the largest in every way, with more than 50 firms represented. There is double the number of booths of all previous conventions put together.

Not less than a dozen companies were refused space because of lack of room. A portion of the armory floor for standing room had to be utilized and three booths have been installed in one of the armory offices. Spacious aisles are provided and the balcony will be used as a place to rest and listen to the concert music which will be a feature.

A color scheme of green and white is being used. The partitions are made of wall board and the display shelves are covered with green felt. The counters are covered with green bunting. Overhead streamers extend from the center to the balcony, carrying out the same color scheme. A special lighting system is to be arranged to enhance the displays. Admission to the armory will be by badge only.

One of the feature exhibits will be two "foot o'scope" outfits. These are X-ray machines that enable a person to see the foot within a shoe through the leather. They will show how the bones are cramped in a shoe that is not fitted to the wearer. This means of fitting shoes is one of the modern methods that the dealer will be able to witness.

MILWAUKEE COMES STRONG
Milwaukee companies will have the booths on both sides of the center aisle and across the back of the hall. Three large signs will carry the Milwaukee slogan, "Quality first—always—Milwaukee." Each firm from that city will give away one pair of shoes or hosiery or a piece of ornamental leather during the convention.

Monday will be devoted to preparation of the headquarters at Eagle. Each for the arrival of delegates. Each will be given an envelope containing badge, program, coupon book for amusement privileges, souvenir postcards and other convention data. The meetings are to open in the afternoon.

BAPTIST ASSEMBLY TO MEET ALL NEXT WEEK

The Wisconsin Baptist summer assembly will be held at Green Lake Aug. 7, 8, 9 and 10 to be followed by the Baptist Young People's Union Meeting Aug. 10 and 11. Aug. 7 is designated as retreat for pastors.

So far as is known the local Baptist church will be represented by only Mrs. A. L. McMillan and daughter. Clarks who have been at Green Lake for several days. The Rev. A. L. McMillan, who is attending summer school at Chicago University will be unable to attend.

The assembly faculty includes prominent leaders from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana and New York. The Rev. A. LeGrand superintendent of the Wisconsin Baptist state convention, formerly pastor of the local Baptist church, will conduct sunset services.

GREEN BAY UNION MEN AGAIN INDORSE SCHNEIDER

Indorsement of Elmer S. Hall for congressman in the Ninth district by Senator LaFollette at Green Bay last week has resulted in this laboring men of that city who at a farmer labor meeting of the district on April 8 indorsed George W. Schneider of Appleton for the same office, have now only reiterated their stand.

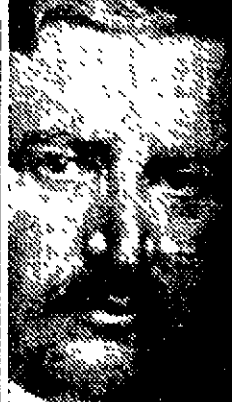

After LaFollette's speech in Green Bay last Tuesday it was decided by the federated shop crafts of that city to test the sentiment of the men. At a meeting in the Turner hall this week Schneider was again indorsed.

PHILIPP WILL BE CHIEF SPEAKER ON GOOD ROADS TOUR

Former Governor Says States Soon Will Be Known by Their Highways

Former Gov. Emanuel L. Philipp will be the principal speaker in the opening inspection tour of State Trunk Highway 15 which is to be conducted under the auspices of the Milwaukee Sentinel in connection with Wisconsin's most famous road, and in which Appleton is arranging to take an active part.

Some of the work that was necessary to make the completion of Highway 15 a reality was done during Mr. Philipp's administration as governor of the state.

"Wisconsin may be justly proud of its famous $4,000,000 highway," Gov. Philipp said in speaking of the project for a statewide celebration. "I am happy to lend whatever assistance may be asked of me."

KNOW STATES BY ROADS
"It was always my conviction that one of the best ways to spread the glory of a state was through its record of highways," he continued.

"Take any state in the union and you will find that it grew in importance in population and in prosperity as its system of roads were developed. Roads of a quality such as the new highway 15 will be not only increase the facilities for travel and transportation within the state but constitute the very finest asset in the way of out-aid advertising. By their roads ye shall know them" might be a likely saying.

axiom in state judging. No great amount of philosophy is necessary to explain that. Motoring has become one of the principal amusements for the American people, as well as constituting one of the greatest conveniences which modern science has given us.

KEEP UP GOOD ROADS
"I hope," continued Mr. Philipp, "that the present spirit of officials and the people in promoting roads will not be permitted to lapse, but will be pushed with such force that Wisconsin, now among the leading states in this progressiveness, will one day top all the rest in the number of miles which are traversed by modern highways. Surely no state can offer a greater variety of natural beauty of scenery which should be accessible to all."

New Management — New Music — New Entertainment — New Environment

IF YOU HAVEN'T BEEN TO RAINBOW THE PAST WEEK, YOU'VE NEVER BEEN THERE—IT'S SO ENTIRELY DIFFERENT

You'll appreciate the atmosphere of refined enjoyment while dancing and dining, and our river view Sun Porch is being talked of already for its beauty and coziness. Dance there, if you like.

Clint Brush's music, as usual, makes you want to dance. It has its own little kink of dance compelling syncopation that the others have not.

Mr. Phil Dooley, that Drumming, Singing and Dancing fool from Chicago joined Clint Brush's orchestra Thursday night. If he can't entertain you, no one can. Clint always has the best. Come TONITE and look the NEW RAINBOW over.

CREAM PRODUCING HONORS OF DALE COPPED BY JERSEY

Culbertson Brothers' Pure
Bred Bovine Produces 81
Pounds of Butterfat

A pure bred Jersey leads the list of cows in the Dale-Hortonville Cow Testing association for highest production in the month of July. It is the Pride of Brookside owned by Culbertson Brothers. Fride is an eight year Jersey and her production for the month was 1,023 pounds of milk and 81 pounds of butterfat, with a test of 8 per cent. This cow was fed on pasture only.

In the report submitted by Vernon Rapprager, secretary, and Orin A. Minarik, tester, it is shown that 44 cows produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat each for the month. Of this number 31 were grade Holstein, 5 grade Guernseys, 5 grade Jerseys, 2 pure bred Jerseys and 1 pure bred Holstein. Two produced over 70 pounds five over 60 and fifteen over 50 pounds of butterfat.

PRIEST CARLINE AT GREEN BAY IS SOLD

White Elephant is Taken Over by New Company and Service is Resumed

Arrangements have been made for the transfer of the Bay Shore Street Railway company of Green Bay, of which A. W. Priest of Appleton is chief stockholder, to the Green Bay Park Railway company. The latter company was organized to take over the Bay Shore property and has been incorporated by Clement C. Smith and his associates, owners of the Wisconsin Public Service company.

Both companies have agreed that the property shall be transferred at a value to be fixed by the Wisconsin railway commission, which has agreed to act as an arbitration board. It has decided that pending the final decision of the commission the street railway may be operated by Bay Beach park. Transfers will be made from the Wisconsin Public Service company's lines.

The latter company was not anxious to purchase the property because of its record of constant loss. C. R. Hennrich, general manager, explained. Because it was thought unfair to burden the company to such an unprofitable enterprise, the new company was incorporated to take over the property, he said.

Crews of the Wisconsin Public Service company began work Thursday to repair the road and it is expected that the line will again be in service in time to accommodate the Saturday evening crowds.

GREEN BAY RESENTS SPEED TRAP CHARGE

Green Bay Rotarians resent the accusation that Green Bay is a good city for tourists to avoid because of the alleged police traps, and will take steps to prevent further hostile publicity. A committee headed by A. B. Turnbull was appointed to investigate the matter.

Adverse publicity conducted by the Milwaukee Journal has listed that city among others where traps for tourists are laid. This was begun following the arrest of W. W. Rowland, "Brownie", for speeding in Green Bay some weeks ago. It is said that hundreds of tourists have avoided the city because of this publicity. It is hoped that the Journal will discontinue the accounts if they could be shown to be unfair.

Reuter Puts Business Methods In City Hall

Business methods in city administration is the policy that Mayor Henry Reuter has apparently chosen to adopt. One of the first things he did on assuming office last spring was to interest himself in the bookkeeping system and the keeping of city hall records.

A study if these matters convinced him that several changes were needed and at once he instituted new records and books especially in the matters of insurance on public buildings and of the various city boards and commissions.

The investigator can now know at a glance how much insurance has been written on every piece of city property, the companies insuring and the date of expiration. It was learned that the insurance on nearly all buildings was much too low and that the city was not properly protected. Although the city hall, for instance, was covered by seven policies, the total amount of insurance on this building was only $1,000. Other property was not insured at all. The mayor therefore requested an investigation of the whole situation and the council appointed a committee to do this. The insurance was then increased about 60 per cent, raising the amount on all city property to $102,500.

Similar investigation was started at the mayor's request of the matter of boards and commissions, the code governing their functions, the personnel and the dates of expirations. In one board, it was learned, there had been no records kept since 1918 and in others it was difficult to learn whose terms had expired. Appointments were delayed as a result. In another board there seemed to have been seven expirations in one year. Under the system of records introduced by Mr. Reuter such tangles are practically impossible.

ANOTHER DETOUR IS TAKEN OFF ROUTE 15

Oshkosh-Fond du Lac Concrete Road Will Be Open for Travel on Sunday

The last of the concrete on the Oshkosh-Fond du Lac section of state trunk highway 15 has been laid and although the third mile of the three mile stretch of new concrete is still closed to traffic, it will be open to tourists temporarily all day Sunday. It probably will be closed again next week to permit the completion of the dirt shoulders. Tourists must, however, drive carefully and will travel at their own risk where shoulders are still lacking, according to Commissioner Binning of Winnebago-co.

This means that local drivers can go from Appleton to Fond du Lac and from Fond du Lac as far as Lomira on concrete. There will be no more detouring on that much talked of rough dirt road after Sunday, Aug. 13. Then there will remain but two detours on the entire route, one between Lomira and Theresa and another from Theresa to Slinger. A part of the Theresa-Slinger rd. is already open, shortening the detour on that stretch. It is expected that the entire Lomira-Theresa improvement will be complete and open to traffic about Sept. 1.

Why So Many "No Smoking" Signs?

One excellent reason is that careless smokers, throwing away lighted cigarettes and cigars, cause fires in the United States which cost on an average of $16 a minute, or $165.00 every week.

The careless smoker would be amazed to know the doleful list of explosions, wrecked homes and factories, and resultant deaths which are traceable to him.

That is only one of the many careless things that make the fire toll of life and property run to such appalling figures in the United States. No less than 1,500 fires a minute occur in this country — and nearly every one could have been prevented by ordinary care.

You can learn how to prevent and stop fires. It may save your office, even the lives of those nearest and dearest to you.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has prepared an illustrated 4-page booklet devoted to this subject which should be in the hands of every child and grown-up in the country.

A free copy of this booklet will be secured by our Washington Information Bureau for anyone who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

REGULATING MOTOR BUSESSES

The city council is considering an ordinance for regulation of motor busses which operate on the streets of Appleton. Many other Wisconsin cities, in which bus lines constitute a program have had similar ordinances for months and courts have held that cities have a legal right to regulate bus companies if they use the cities' streets as their places of doing business.

The ordinance proposed here is far from drastic. It prohibits busses from operating on the city's streets without the council's consent, fixes a license fee, provides the busses shall not operate on College avenue, between Appleton and Morrison streets and on Oneida street between Washington and Lawrence streets and instructs bus companies competing with electric lines to change their schedules so they will leave their terminal 15 minutes before the scheduled street car leaving time. Surely no one can find fault with this proposed ordinance on the ground that it is too harsh.

The council has adopted ordinances which give it the right to refuse permission to street peddlers to use the streets in their trade and to exact a license. When permission is granted, therefore it cannot be argued that this ordinance is discriminatory. The public highways are the "right-of-way" for the bus lines as public carriers and it is no more than right that they should be compelled to pay for at least a part of the cost of maintaining the streets they use. Street car and railroad companies are obliged to pay the entire cost of maintaining their tracks and right of way.

Barring motor busses from the corner of College avenue and Oneida street and a block on each side will go a long way toward relieving the congestion in that place. There are some cities in which busses are obliged to remain off from a number of congested streets and courts have held these regulations to be reasonable and effective.

The clause compelling bus lines running parallel with the street car lines to change their schedules to leave 15 minutes ahead of street cars is prompted by a spirit of fair play to the traction company and a desire to give Appleton people better transportation service. As long as the street cars and busses both operate on the same schedule Appleton only has half hour service to Neenah, Kaukauna and intermediate points. If the busses leave 15 minutes earlier than the street cars the city will have 15 minute service to those cities.

The traction company has spent years in building up its business and educating the people that they can have transportation service at the times its cars are scheduled to leave the terminal. It is only fair that the company be permitted to get the benefit of the trade it has worked up, especially in view of the fact that it pays a portion of the cost of maintaining the streets which it uses.

The council will do well if it adopts this ordinance regulating motor busses. It is the council's duty to protect the interests of the city and its taxpayers and this can be done by so ordering the city's affairs so that there will be little friction as possible and services rendered the people will be adequate.

BALFOUR'S DEBT NOTE

The note discussing the allied debts, addressed by Lord Balfour, acting foreign secretary of the British cabinet, to France, Italy, Jugo-Slavia, Roumania, Portugal and Greece, is undoubtedly intended for careful consideration by the United States. Issued on the eve of the conference to be held in London by Lloyd George, Premier Poincare and the representatives of Italy and Belgium, it is no doubt hoped that the considerations of that conference will be influenced by it. While he acknowledges the right of America, under the conditions of the loan, to ask for the funding of the debt that is owing by Great Britain, and the payment of the interest on it, Lord Balfour indicates that in complying with such a demand the British policy of scaling down the German reparations and cancelling the interallied debts would be made difficult, if not impossible.

The policy of not demanding payment of international debts, Lord Balfour holds, "is only tolerable so long as it is generally accepted," and it is not right that one partner in a common enterprise "should recover all she has lent and that another, while recovering nothing, should be required to pay all she has borrowed." The obvious deduction to be reached from the note is that if the United States requires Great Britain to pay its war debts, Great Britain must require other countries to pay their war debts to Great Britain. That Lord Balfour should expect any such general settlement to be brought about seems unlikely. More probably it is his purpose to concentrate international attention on the huge national commitments and to try to reach a new, definite and helpful understanding concerning them.

It is not likely, on the present showing of international financial relations, that the United States will favor any scheme of complete cancellation. Such a policy would put an excessive after-the-war burden on the American people, after they had contributed about $20,000,000,000, raised an army of 4,000,000 men and had sent 2,000,000 of them across the sea to save European civilization. For this help it has asked nothing either in the way of territory or indemnity. Indeed, the whole effort was a free and generous contribution to the welfare of the world. The present implied demand is for a further contribution of about $10,000,000,000. Whether this will eventually be made will depend on circumstances and developments that must be carefully considered.

THE FARMER'S DOLLAR

America's farm crops this year are roughly estimated at $12,000,000,000, with a probability that the total value will be more. The money paid to the farmers for what they raise will be used in liquidating loans, erecting or repairing buildings, buying machinery, implements and merchandise. No inconsiderable part of it may find its way into the pockets of the automobile manufacturers, if the farmers have sufficient surplus, because they have come to the realization that a motor car is almost essential on the farm. The Wall Street Journal says:

"If the average farm price of crops and livestock in 1921 be compared with the wholesale price of all other commodities it will be found that the purchasing power of the farmers' dollar was about 67 cents. In other words, it would take one dollar's worth of farm products to buy 67 cents' worth of other commodities. The individual farmer's return is never larger. If a return on the value of the land be excluded, his wage for his labor, risk and management averages less than $500 a year. Consequently, when that wage shrinks in purchasing power, the effect on business is quickly felt as it was in 1920 and 1921."

It is estimated that the lowest point in farm purchasing power was during the close of 1921 when the buying value of the farmer's dollar fell to 62 cents. There has been improvement since then in the price of farm products, and another important thing to take into consideration is that this year's crops are being produced at less cost than formerly. Commodity prices have responded to upward tendencies, just as farm products have become more valuable, thus the farmer's dollar is not worth quite as much as it was several months ago. The Wall Street Journal thinks the present purchasing value of the farm dollar is about 72 cents.

The farmer was hard hit, it is pointed out, when he raised crops at the peak of inflation and was forced to sell them when deflation was well under way. He was the first hit and also the hardest hit because commodity prices did not begin to fall until the prices of farm products had reached new low levels. Eventually, however, these things right themselves. The farmer has about decided not to be sorry for himself any longer. His condition is not yet ideal, but it is much improved.

Don't Bake the Baby

This time of year, the catching cold phobia makes things pretty tough for the baby. Especially for the sickly baby and most particularly the baby that happens to have, let us say, adenoid enlargement or chronic rhinitis or chronic bronchitis. Such babies suffer even greater harm from excessive heat than do normal babies. It is this time of year, in the congested city districts, where a prolific foreign population flourishes, that many babies are literally baked to death, wrapped in incredible layers of swaddling which the ignorant parents believe necessary to make the babies grow straight and strong. That seems a very absurd thing, but our own corset wearing women are quite as absurd in their notions that corsets mold or preserve or develop a good figure. Ignorance at home sometimes wears a lot of fine airs.

Young babies have exceedingly efficient heat generating equipment. They turn a large amount of food into heat and they need the freest opportunity to dispose of the surplus heat of their bodies in hot weather. Especially the babies that are not perfectly well. Yet—well, here's a simple query that may be taken as representative of many: Please tell me if a child three years old and subject to bronchial trouble should wear wool shirts and wool stockings all summer. He gets that cough and bronchial trouble every time he catches cold.—Mrs. J. R.

I'll bet any woman would say by all means keep the baby swaddling and pinning thru the summer—if you do keep him thru the summer. But an intelligent mother could tell this correspondent that the child should not be kept in wool shirts and wool stockings in very hot weather. And I urge her to dress the child in nothing else than thin rompers or some such sensible garment and put no shirt or stockings on him at all in hot weather. If he must have a shirt on when company comes or something, make it a cotton shirt and let it fit him like the famous shirt whose wearer's mamma did not use that soap. The less shirt the better for a child's health in hot weather.

Every baby should have a long air bath every day in hot weather. A small or trial size baby is plenty of clothing for an infant in hot weather. Infants and children of two to three years of age really endure exposure to cold, moderate cold, better than you and I do, because they have a much better heat generating apparatus of their own. They suffer from the heat much more seriously than you or I would if we were subjected to the awful swaddling they have to put up with. Imagine you or me putting on wool shirts, wool stockings, belly bands, chest protectors and the like to go out and mow the lawn or to go to dinner on a torrid night!

The catching cold phobia is vicious enough in its effects in cold weather. It is deplorable that the babies should be the victims of this same sorry old obsession in the dog days. The infant mortality, which is still much too high in the hot weather season, is due in part directly to excessive heat.

Babies are not built to endure excessive heat. Give 'em the air as much as you can and don't stifle the poor little tikes with unnecessary clothing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Disappointing a Lady

Dear Doctor: I am twelve years old. My face is covered with freckles and I should like to know whether you would kindly suggest a remedy of some kind, something which I may apply to remove them without injuring my skin.

Yours respectfully,

LILLIAN E.

Answer—If there were such a remedy I should be delighted to tell you about it. But, honestly, there is no such remedy which is safe. I don't mind whispering a secret in your ear, however: Ladies who are freckled in their early teens seldom fall to blossom later into lovely queens. The freckles will fade all in due time.

Nether Limbs

Kindly advise whether olive oil or cocoa butter massage will fatten or strengthen the legs. J. J. Answer—No. The popular notion that local application of rubbing with oils or fats or other substance is treated as an error inspired by humbug assurances. As a physiological fact no nutritive material or fattening material or food of any description can be absorbed thru the skin.

The Peerless Beverage

Please tell me whether warm milk fresh from the cows is good for girls to drink freely each night and morning. What are the best forms of exercise for girls of my age (14)? Miss L. W. Answer—Yes. If any beverage under the sun can be reasonably called the health and hearty beverage, it is fresh milk immediately after the milking and before cooling, and save only cold water, that is the most tempting beverage I can imagine. Girls of your age should swim, play tennis, basketball, girls' baseball, skate, ride bicycle, hike (as Girl Scouts) do some athletic or fancy dancing, gymnastic work and a bit of tumbling.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

IMPARTIALITY OF PRESIDENT HARDING WARMLY APPROVED

That the position taken by President Harding in his letter to J. C. Dean, refuting the latter's allegation that the Government was essaying compelling men to work against their wills, establishes a precedent that will be useful in future labor troubles is the opinion of most of the editorial writers of the country. They brush aside the contention of President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L. that a "man of straw" has been erected for the President's benefit, and argue that, regardless of Dean's ability, it was sound wisdom on the part of the President to reiterate that while there was no law which would compel forced labor there also was no law to prevent men laboring who desired to labor and that such men were entitled to adequate protection in doing so. The Dean telegram also, many papers believe, afforded a badly needed opportunity for the President to make plain that the government would "play no favorites" in labor disputes.

"A notably important part of the President's telegram," the Buffalo TIMES pointed out, "is its denial of any governmental coercion, the message defining the government's purpose as simply to prevent lawlessness and violence." The letter, also, the Providence TRIBUNE is convinced, is "a deserved rebuke to those men who would entangle partisan politics with a national crisis; is an honest and sincere expression of desire to bring the coal and rail strikes to a fair and impartial conclusion, and is a definite statement of the Administration's position toward the strikes. The big outstanding feature of President Harding's dealings with the strikes has been his sense of fairness, a desire to see justice given to both sides a spirit of impartiality, all far above the unwarranted attack of J. C. Dean." And the Springfield REPUBLICAN is certain that American labor will not be placed under the gun "in the sense of compelling it or any part of it to be employed against its will." There will be no "strikes" on that score. On the other hand the policy of protection of American labor in its right to work is a failure so far as the actual production of coal is concerned. The time seems to have come for another chapter of the story.

In this connection the Buffalo NEWS says that "if the farmer, too, is on strike against decisions of a governmental tribunal the news of it has not got around to us. This attempt to drag the farmer into a partisan attitude in a controversy in which he, long with the rest of the general public, has been suffering the most ridiculous Government is neither for one group or another. It must recognize no class, neither capital nor labor, farmer, mechanic nor manufacturer, when the common interest is imperiled and the questions at issue are debatable. The government that does favor one side or another, and that is willing to let its legally authorized agencies be flouted by group interests is no government at all." And so far as the Washington STAR is concerned, it insists that it would have been far better for Mr. Gompers instead of questioning the good faith of the correspondence, to have joined in the denunciation of the unpatriotic and dangerous expressions of "Chairman Dean." Everything the President said in his letter was specifically along the line of labor's best interest and the American Federation of Labor can do no better than endorse it regardless of the present strike situation.

"The interchange," in the opinion of the Norfolk VIRGINIAN PILOT, is "a melancholy sparring that does not touch the controversy as it stands today." The government's emphasis on the suffering that the strike has caused occupied three weeks ago to the composing of differences by arbitration instead of to their elimination by a destructive war of attrition." But the Albany KNICKERBOCKER PRESS believes that "it cannot truthfully be contended that the President has not done all in his power to obtain a settlement of the disputes that will be satisfactory to all; he leaves the door still open. But he is the president of all the people and when public existence is at stake he must and will move." The Hartford TIMES also is convinced that "if the acts of the government appear to the strikers to interfere with their freedom it is only because the differences between the two positions is that the railroad workers exercise their rights of freedom in seeking to hinder the necessary transportation of the country notwithstanding the provision made by law for the consideration of any just grievance. The President's admirable statement of the fundamental issue involved should be read by every American citizen."

"Mr. Harding speaks in his letter," the Baltimore SUN says, "with a vigor and spirit that rarely characterize his utterances. He may almost be said to have put on his fighting clothes to write it. Mr. Harding, while still urging arbitration, says he is ready to go to the mat with any challenger on the fundamental issue of personal freedom if it is forced upon him. On that ground he occupies an invincible position. Let us hope that his actions will speak louder than his words." The representative yesterday that the President's reply to Dean the Chicago DAILY NEWS declares that "the situation that has developed demands some educational leadership in every neighborhood. The President's letter to the labor swashbuckler propagandist furnishes a good beginning for what should be a systematic crusade undertaken by Americans of intelligence to put down falsehoods in the interests of truth, democracy, and sanity." In this same connection the

Utica OBSERVER DISPATCH is convinced that the President's letter "is the clearest, clearest, most concise exposition of the strike situation yet made. It places the entire situation before the country and it leaves neither operators, employers nor workmen in a very enviable light. When these several classes, at different times through the progress of the long negotiations in which the Government has attempted to bring about a state of peace, refused to accept the fair propositions made by the president, they demand their own cause with the people. The pot is as black as the kettle." In addition the Canton NEWS asserts, "the statement of President Harding, as representing the attitude of the government toward both sides in the strike, is so thoroughly just and in the interests of the public that it will stand long after the President's critics have lost their influence."

The reply of the President will have force in all future controversies of this character the Kansas City JOURNAL believes because "it leaves absolutely unanswerable the fundamental contention that, as all men have the right to quit their work, all men have the equal right to work and that those who deny that right are not only without the pale of statute law, constructed by the highest tribunals of the land, but subvert the founding principles of American institutions." And "It was high time," the New York HERALD says, "that the President of the United States called to account the recklessly irresponsible and callously unscrupulous bearers of false witness against the Government's policies," while the New York WORLD argues that "Mr. Harding shows good common sense in making it plain that there was no issue of patriotism in the coal strike or railroad strike and that, so far as he is concerned, there is no dispute about the loyal American citizenship of the men who have quit work."

WOMEN DEMAND CAMBRIDGE DEGREES

London—According to the Observer the women from Cambridge College of Girton and Newnham have demanded and will continue to demand admission to degrees and University membership on the same terms as men. Not long ago some 2,600 of them signed a petition to this effect. The reply given by the University has been confused and unsatisfactory. Within the past two years Cambridge has voted and counter-voted on various proposals. The only proposal which it has actually carried—and to this practical effect has not yet been given—is that women who are qualified (apart from sex) for degree status may obtain "titles of degrees," but not real degrees. In making this half-hearted offer, Cambridge is proposing to treat women just as it formerly treated Jews and Nonconformists, whom also it tried to satisfy with the titular degree until Parliament stepped in and compelled the University to abolish its discriminations of creed.

Cambridge might have continued for some time to spin more or less fantastic schemes for women students, were it not that Oxford has admitted women freely to its degrees and University membership. At Oxford the whole question is finally and cheerfully settled. But the wisdom of Oxford has caused discomfort at Cambridge and Cambridge women are "feeling the draught." The pioneer women's colleges at Cambridge are placed for the first time at a great disadvantage. For the sake of their founders, for the sake of their students, past, present and to come, they cannot possibly let the matter rest where it now is. Their whole prestige, all that they value, is at stake. Consequently, were the members of the Cambridge Senate to refuse women equal rights and again, the agitation could only become more embittered and prolonged.

Meantime, the Royal Commission, while wishing to limit the number of women students at Cambridge, has definitely recommended that women be "admitted on the same terms as men to membership of the University."

SLIT INFANT'S EARS

London—The custom of slitting a baby's ear "to make it bright and lively" is still practiced in many parts of Wales says the Daily Express.

Dr. Walter Hughes, medical officer of health for Carmarthenshire, speaking at a meeting of the Pontardulais (South Wales) Maternity and Child Welfare Centre, yesterday, protested against the practice, which is known as "Torriech." The custom, he said, should have been stamped out at the same time as witchcraft and fortune-telling.

Sir Vincent Evans, the noted Welsh antiquary, said to a "Daily Express" representative yesterday that the exact translation of the words "torriech" was "cutting a slit."

A Welshman resident in London said that the practice was a common one in his boyhood, particularly in the remote rural districts, but sometimes also in the towns. He added: "If anyone was slow at his work, the critics would always remark, 'you couldn't have had your ear slit.' I thought, however, that the custom had died down long ago."

World Of Freaks

A museum of death is started at the University of Brussels, in Belgium. Susan Minns, of Boston, donates her large collection of mummies, poison cups, coffin nails, stuffed buzzards and other cheerful objects.

You wonder why Susan's hobby ran in the direction of the graveyard. She would be equally perplexed at your hobby.

A wise Nature gives us different tastes to make us interesting to each other. If we were all exactly alike, life would be stupid, boring.

It's consoling to find someone else cursed with our faults. Human nature eternally seeks alibis. It's pleasing to see our good qualities mirrored in others. All of us admire ourselves in the looking-glass.

Study of human nature is popular because we use others as dim mirrors of ourselves. All based on vanity. We think the weather is mighty warm. To make sure and flatter our judgment, everyone parrots: "Is it warm enough for you?"

Henry E. Huntington, owner of the famous Gainsborough painting, "Blue Boy," has a library worth $10,000,000. This collection, at San Marino, Cal., consists of rare volumes and priceless old manuscripts.

Yet Henry doesn't get as much pleasure out of these brain mummies as a lad in knee pants gets out of a book on radio or "Huckleberry Finn."

Not what you have, but how much enjoyment you get out of it, is what counts. On these hot days, wouldn't you trade places with the poorest country boy, fishing with a bent pin and diving in the old swimming hole? Not quite so loudly!

To forget summer heat, imagine yourself a fur trapper snowed out through the woods of the Canadian Far North, with the thermometer 34 below zero in January.

You might like that now, for a few hours, but not in winter. It's a lonesome life. Rather, has been. For a reader at Fort Williams, Ontario, postcards that trappers are installing radio outfits in their cabins.

Civilization is killing solitude. Is it a gain or a loss?

What do you make of this, Watson? Cold storage plants in America hold only half as much beef as a year ago and only slightly more than a third of what's stored normally at this time of year.

A good thing, to keep meat stocks low until winter, especially in your own refrigerator. Meat in the stomach generates heat. Eat lightly of it, to help keep yourself cool.

More than 1,000,000 Americans have taken up horseshoe pitching. Says the magazine, Horseshoe World. This ancient game still runs neck-and-neck with radio. Horseshoe pitchers will bow their national tournament at Des Moines, Ia., beginning August 28.

Croquet is another old-fashioned game that is sweeping back into popularity. The best metropolitan sporting goods houses are selling croquet outfits. Fads always come back, like the rubber ball you used to bounce against the barn back home.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How many baseballs are used in the average nine-inning game in the major leagues? B. H.

A. About three dozen.

Q. What railroad stations have the highest average of passengers daily? G. S. R.

A. South Station, Boston, holds the world's record for number of people passing through it daily. The average is 105,000 passengers. St. Lazare, France, is second with 89,000. North Station, Boston, and a London depot tie for third place with 80,000 daily.

Q. Where are the headquarters of the Republican and Democratic National Committees? E. K. L.

A. The Republican National Headquarters have been established in the Munsey Building, Washington, D. C. The Democratic organization is headquartered in the Bond Building in the National Capital.

Q. Where is the largest beet sugar factory in this country? G. L. T.

A. The largest plant of this kind is not only in America but in the world, is at Spreckles, Calif. It turns out approximately 5,000 tons of beet sugar a day.

Q. Why are some plants called weeds while others are not? M. W.

A. Weeds are plants growing where they are not desired. There are no plants which are weeds per se, since in nature each plant has its place. In cultivated areas any plant, useless or useful, may become a weed.

Q. Can the male fish be distinguished from the female in color? B. K.

A. The Bureau of Fisheries says that in fish of the same species it will be found that the female is darker than the male.

Q. Is an overture called such because it is played at other times than before an opera? F. F.

A. An overture is often played in a concert. This musical composition is usually a combination of the melodies contained in an opera or oratorio, and used before it to prepare the audience and influence its mood.

Q. What is a good biography of Charles Dickens? J. S. H.

A. Perhaps the best biography of Charles Dickens is that written by his friend, John Forster, published in 1872.

Q. Who wrote "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia"? H. F. N.

A. This was the work of the negro poet James Bland.

Q. What is the greatest depth under water at which men can work? O. F. L.

A. The pneumatic caisson method is limited in its application to work at a depth of about 100 feet below the surface of the water, as it is impossible for men to work conveniently and effectively under greater air pressure than that required to sustain a column of water at that height.

Q. Are there statistics showing the number of illegitimate children born in the United States? R. J. O.

A. There is no national system of registration of marriages and births in this country, and hence no authoritative statistics on legitimacy. Some states record illegitimate births, but the figures are misleading because incomplete.

Q. How much does a quart of ice cream weigh? D. P. O.

A. The standard weight of ice cream varies considerably in the different states.

Q. Does water always freeze at a temperature of 32 degrees? L. N.

A. Pure water ordinarily freezes at a temperature which is denoted by 32 degrees on the Fahrenheit scale, but it is possible to cool water to a temperature considerably lower than this, if proper precautions are taken, without crystallization. Placed in a vessel and covered with a layer of oil, water may be cooled to 10 degrees without freezing, but if the vessel be shaken or jarred solidification ensues at once.

TRAINING SCHOOL ENROLLMENT WILL BE LARGE IN FALL

Many Students Want Chance to Work in Spare Time—Hire New Teacher

Kaukauna—Outagamie County Training school will open for the fall and winter term on Monday Aug. 28, and indications are that the opening enrollment will be greater than ever before. W. F. Hagman, principal of the school, has said that students are enrolling and inquiries are being made in such numbers that he expects more at the opening of school than were registered for the entire previous term.

A number of young ladies who desire to attend school have asked the principal of the possibility of securing work in homes to assist them in their way through school. Mr. Hagman has asked that housewives who can use extra help should notify him. A few years ago there was a brisk demand for girls to help after school hours and on Saturdays, he said.

The faculty this term will consist of Mr. Hagman, Miss Jennie Peacock and Miss Mildred Carter. Miss Carter, who taught in the school a few years ago, will take the place of Miss Dora Behrendt, who has resigned. Miss Carter had been engaged in the photography business with her sister in New London.

KAUKAUNA GIRL IS ON CLEGHORN PROGRAM

Kaukauna—Camp Cleghorn assembly for 1922 is being held on the assembly grounds on Columbia Lake, one of the famous Chalmers-Lakes at Waupaca. The camp dates are Friday, August 4 to Monday, August 14. H. S. Cooke, of this city, is president of the organization. Interest in the assembly among Kaukauna people centers about the entertainments which are being held each evening and especially about the program for next Tuesday evening in which Miss Edna Ruff is to feature the evening with her whistling. Miss Ruff has been supervisor of music in the local public schools for two years and will return again in the fall.

Indications are that a number of automobile parties will make the trip to Waupaca Tuesday. Miss Ruff is to assist in the programs on Sunday and Thursday evenings also. F. H. Jeeb of Appleton, and his violin orchestra, will appear in concert also.

CAR TO BE DESTROYED AT HIGH CLIFF SUNDAY

Kaukauna—Pleasure seekers who are looking for a thrill are planning to attend the picnic and dance at High

Cliff park Sunday afternoon and evening. During the afternoon a seven passenger car will be driven over the cliff. Plans have been made by Mike H. Nielsen, proprietor, of this city, to have a motion picture man on the grounds to photograph the event and to "take" various beauty spots about the park. Music for dancing will be furnished by Colwell's orchestra of Manawa. The Potters band will give a concert.

Do You Want $1,000.00?

You can have it.

Come to The Citizens National Bank of Appleton. Join the Savings-Insurance Plan. Make a small payment, and continue to make this monthly payment for ten years.

The bank will pay you $1,000 at the end of this period.

If you die before you have completed your payments your family will receive considerably more than $1,000.

How The Plan Works

If you are 25 years old, for example, you come to the bank, show you are in good health, make an initial payment of $8.61, and agree to continue this payment for ten years.

3% Interest Compounded Twice a Year

The major part of this payment is deposited to your account in the bank at 3% interest. A small fraction is used to pay the premiums on a $1,000.00 Life Insurance Policy which you receive. It is a new policy. It contains every liberal feature that time has shown valuable.

You Get More Than $1,000.00

At the end of ten years you receive $1,000.00 in cash, and have in your possession a $1,000.00 life insurance policy which you can continue at the low rate for age 25, or surrender for cash or paid-up life insurance.

Death Cannot Keep You From Your Goal

In case of your death within the ten-year period, your family will receive $1,000.00 from the Insurance Company and the sum of your accumulated deposits in this bank plus interest. In event of death at the end of the fifth year this would total $1463.04.

Open to All—Men and Women

This Plan is open to all persons in good health, men and women, between the ages of 16 and 55. You can arrange for any sum of insurance and savings up to $25,000.00. You will save money under this Plan. People who have never been able to save consistently before are succeeding with this program.

Richard Again Explains His System For Changing Names Of City's Streets

Numbered and Alphabetically
Arranged Streets and Avenues Proposed as Means of Eliminating Confusion.

In response to a letter directed to the Post-Crescent and published Friday, asking for fuller explanation of the Richard system of street naming, George T. Richard, manager of the Outagamie Loan & Title Co., has himself undertaken to explain his plan in detail. In the letter below he also answers some of the problems that have arisen in the discussion of the three plans proposed.

The Post-Crescent welcomes other expressions of views on any of the systems. Correspondents are requested to sign their names in full. If the persons who have sent in letters unassigned will disclose their names, the letters will be published. This is a question on which everybody should feel free to express his opinion openly. The common council's street committee, which is considering a plan for the renaming of streets, would place no value on an unsigned letter.

Here is Mr. Richard's letter:

"Street Names Editor: Numerous requests have reached me for a further explanation of my system of renaming the streets of Appleton and I welcome the opportunity of again being able to say something on behalf of the street naming problem now before the citizens of Appleton. It is gratifying to know that so many people are taking the proper interest in this matter and that they are realizing the seriousness of the step to be taken, as a change of street names means as much to the future of Appleton as it does to the present, and cannot be given too much serious consideration.

100 NUMBERS TO BLOCK

"That the number system should be adopted on the basis of 100 to the block I believe is a settled matter and needs no further argument, and as to the changing of the names of the streets, I view that important problem from two angles.

"First: If the city does not care to consider a complete change and desires only to remedy certain prominent deficiencies in the method now in use, then I would without question recommend the changes proposed by Mr. Weisgerber, the city engineer, as he has recommended efficient remedies to supply the present prominent deficiencies.

"Second: If the city will make a complete change, which apparently is favored by many citizens, then I would say that the change should be one which is systematic, methodical, practical and simple to understand and use by both citizen and stranger.

"Bearing those requirements in mind, I have worked out a plan which embodies the above essentials and which was published in the Post-Crescent some months ago.

"To review the plan, I proposed to use as a measuring unit the intersection of College Avenue and Oneida Street, and to use those two streets as east and west and north and south base lines, considering that Oneida, Pearl and Lake Streets will bear one name in common. All east and west streets north of College Avenue, would be changed to numbered avenues, such as First Avenue, Second Avenue etc.; all east and west streets south of College Avenue, would be changed to numbered streets, such as First Street, Second Street, etc. Therefore, anybody would know from the names of these streets how far north or south he had to go from College Avenue.

"The north and south streets west of Oneida Street would be changed to named avenues and arranged alphabetically, that is, the first street west of Oneida Street would be an avenue beginning with the letter 'A', the next one beginning with the letter 'B', etc. The remaining north and south east of Oneida Street would be changed to named streets and would also have the alphabetical progression, that is, the first street east of Oneida Street would bear the name beginning with the letter 'A', the next one beginning with the letter 'B', etc.

"Here I wish to call particular attention to the fact that, with his arrangement, one has the same opportunity of knowing how far a named street is from a certain point as one has in knowing that a numbered street by the very name of the street. To illustrate this point, have the name Flower-st located under this system. It would be easy to determine that this street was six blocks east of Oneida Street. Likewise Fern Avenue would be six blocks west of Oneida Street. Sixth Avenue would be six blocks north of College Avenue and Sixth Street would be six blocks south of College Avenue. This example will illustrate the unity of the system.

AVOID CONFUSION

"The words, North, South, East and West will be used in connection with giving a street address and will be used only once in each address, such as East Third Avenue, North Fern Avenue, etc. I believe that the use of more than one direction in connection with a street address will be the cause of considerable confusion to be citizens and would be the source of numerous complications.

"As another example, take my residence location. I live at number 540 Locust street, being in the second block south of College Avenue. What chance has anyone who does not know where Locust Street is to find that street? In what part of town would a person start to look? There is nothing to indicate in what direction this street runs, no way exists in knowing how far it may be from the center of town or from any other street, etc. In other words, it means to inquire and wander along until you find that street.

"Compare the above situation with that same street and number under my system and you will observe the elimination of all of the above difficulties. The said street and number would presumably be known as number 250 South Harriman Avenue. Any person who knew the four basic rules of the system could locate that number without making any inquiries because he would know by the named Avenue that it was a north and south street and located west of Oneida Street. He would know that when he saw Gilmore Avenue on the sign post on his way west, that the next street would be Harriman Avenue and that he had but one more block to go, and by the number and word south he would know that the place was in the second block south of College Avenue or between First and Second streets.

"The locating of a street and number is an affair which occurs thousands of times daily in this city and the difficulties set out in the above illustration are similarly experienced daily by hundreds of citizens, say nothing of the trials of strangers.

"It has been shown that the fire department, police department, mail clerks and carriers, delivery men, taxi drivers etc., are experiencing serious difficulties under the way our streets are now named and numbered which is sufficient evidence to show that a change should be made, and I am frank in saying that a complete and systematic change is the only change which can possibly remedy all the daily difficulties experienced by business men and people in all walks of life, imposing upon them, not only mental hardships but loss of time and money as well as an obstacle to the standard of business efficiency.

HELPS HOME FOLKS

I cannot see why it should be said that the only argument in favor of renaming our streets is the one to favor the tourists and stranger, when your paper plainly expressed good and substantial reasons given by the fire chief, postmaster, deliverymen and others. I have always been looking to the needs of our citizens first, but at the same time the tourist and stranger must not be forgotten. Strangers make new citizens and we want all we can get, and the tourist speaks either good or bad of our city when he leaves it and we want him to speak the good word.

Another benefit and feature which will develop from this application of my system is, that there will be no intersections of two numbered streets or of named streets, all intersections will be that of a named and numbered street. So, no one can say that they live on the corner of First Avenue and First Street, or the like.

Another aid in carrying out this system is the effective erection of street signs, as for instance, when a person is going north looking for Tenth Avenue he will be able to note his progress in seeking his destination as he passes from one block to the other and in seeing the named streets, the street signs will assist in showing the alphabetical progression of those streets.

A further advantage to be derived from this system is, that when a number of a street is given, one can tell between what two streets that number is located without much thought. For instance, 300 North Appleton Avenue would be between Second and Third Avenue, likewise, 400 East First Avenue would be between Clark and Dillon streets.

PICK SUITABLE NAMES

The names which I have at any time used were employed only to illustrate my point and should not be interpreted that I wanted such names used. The matter of selecting names for the named streets does in no way interfere with the application of my system and I maintain that the matter of naming such streets should be left to the council or to the people themselves. As a matter of fact, it will be through my system that proper and fitting names can be given to these streets. The historical names which we now have can be preserved and such historical names and illustrative names which we should have can be used, therefore, from my standpoint, there should be no cause for alarm in that respect.

My entire system is based on four simple elements: (1) All Numbered Avenues are north of College Avenue; (2) All Numbered Streets are South of College Avenue; (3) All Named Avenues are west of Oneida Street; (4) All Named Streets are east of Oneida Street.

The above four points are all that anyone needs to know to carry out the system effectively, and if the same is properly analyzed, it will not look so difficult as it might first appear. One can easily visualize the system by drawing a few lines on paper to represent streets, and then by applying the four elements, the simplicity together with the benefits to be derived will quickly be realized.

The TATTOOED ARM

Isabel Ostrander ©1922 N.E.A. Service, Inc.

"Marks, take Gray into the drawing room," Miles ordered. "Farrell, roll up the right sleeve of the man who calls himself Andrew Drake and take off the bandage."

A gasping cry came from Jerusha but Miss Hawks moaned.

"That was what deceived me so thoroughly when he was putting on his coat out in the garden the first day I called."

The pseudo Andrew set his teeth but he made no show of resistance when the bandage was removed and on the still inflamed surface of his arm appeared the blurred inter-twined letters "H" and "O."

"You thought they were your own initials did you not, Miss Hawks?" Miles asked gently. "Forgive me for reopening an old wound but that touch of sentiment for a time blinded you to certain inconsistencies which the Drake family themselves had failed to note."

She nodded dumbly in an obvious effort to control her emotions and the detective went on.

"In reality the initials are his own, as far as the police records of Australia show. His name is Hugh Osborne and he too is badly wanted but not for the same crime as his present accomplice. Will you tell me Wells and your old friends here when the first doubt of his identity entered your mind?"

"I called here yesterday but as I grew reminiscent and he betrayed an utter ignorance of the incidents I mentioned a wild suspicion came into my mind. I spoke of my initials on his arm and though he swore there in remembrance of me I was still unconvinced. I felt that I must be going mad and yet I had to make sure. I laid a deliberate trap for him and he fell into it."

Miss Hawks rose. "Now may I go?" I came as I promised but I can endure no more. Jerusha forgive me, but surely it is better that you know the truth."

"The truth is always best. Ora—Miss Drake rose and a stern Spar-tan gravity had robbed her set features of all other emotion. "Tonight shall see the end of more than one living lie."

John Wells escorted the trembling woman to her waiting car and scarcely had the attorney reappeared when the impostor broke out with an oath.

"You're right, will, Miss Jerusha Drake. Lord, what a six months I've put in in this pious hypocritical household! Why you're all worse crooks than me, every one of you, and I've got the goods on you! We could have fixed this little matter up friendly all round if you'd been sensible but as it is—I've my own story to tell, and by G—D, I'll tell it!"

Miles did not look at Scottie but seated himself with a laugh.

"Going to try to stick to that far-fetched blackmailing scheme you hatched when you found that Andrew Drake had left relatives here with money and a social position to lose?" he asked easily. "Farrell, you can join Marks and his man till I call you. Mr. Wells is to tell for the wisest cock and bull story that two cheap crooks ever conceived."

Mr. Hugh Osborne here is wanted in Victoria for blackmail and forgery now. He won't be extradited until he has been tried and served his term here for fraud attempted blackmail attempted abduction of Miss Patricia and several other little items growing out of this case if Mr. Hobart Drake wishes to prefer charges. How the private papers and letters of the real Andrew Drake came into the possession of Hugh Osborne is a question which the next official cable will answer."

"Oh you needn't wait for that!" Osborne remarked sullenly. "And I were friends. He was taken down with the fever and I nursed him till the end but before he died he left me everything. It was all fixed up legal and proper by his own wish and I can prove it though there was little enough to leave for the sheep ranch was a wretched failure, and he'd been too proud to write the truth home. Before he died, too when the delirium was on him he told me how he and his brothers had flooded the country here with counterfeit bills long ago, but it's God's truth I never meant to make use of that then. When I fell in with Gray in Melbourne about a year and a half ago, I remembered how much I looked like Andy and Gray and I—well, we saw there was a good thing in it."

"So Gray came on here ahead and for a year paved the way by getting in with Mr. Roger Drake and then you appeared as Andrew and a few weeks ago you began to work serious with your accomplices to terrorize the family while yourself pretending to be a victim as well?" Miles declared. "You know you couldn't get away with that accusation of counterfeiting if it came to a show down, for the ravings of a man in delirium wouldn't be taken seriously but you and Gray knew too that if you forced the men of the family by anonymous threats of notoriety to commit ridiculous public acts you could soon put the screws on them for money and increase your demands until you had bled them white."

CHAPTER XIX
"What was the first thing put you on the right track, Owen, lad?" Scottie puffed contentedly on his pipe.

"I think it was Andrew himself," Miles responded. "It struck me as odd in my first talk with Wells and little Miss Patricia that Hobart and Roger should both have made public exhibitions of themselves, but Andrew's fit of supposed insanity took place safe at home for the benefit of the servants alone."

"When I had made up my mind that insanity played no part in the strange events the only alternative to consider was blackmail, and it must have been for some indiscretion or even crime committed in the far past. Right then the solution was in my grasp for you had learned that in their youth Roger had been interested in chemistry, dyeing and in photography, that Hobart was a pen-and-ink artist, and Andrew had worked for a time in a pulp manufacturing plant. The old chest of metal junk which we carted away from under the floor of the summer-house and destroyed the morning after we wound up the case, Scottie, did not contain the remains of a printing press as you surmised, but the relic of the silk threaded paper the government uses for genuine greenbacks and had been an original invention of the real Andrew."

"It didn't come to me even then that the truth was staring me in the face, until you brought me that twenty-dollar bill Rip got knifed over and I found it was counterfeit. It was scorched at one end, and knowing that Rip must have found it somewhere I concluded that it had been on the dust-heap where Miss Drake must have thrown it among the ashes which she cleaned out of the drawing room fireplace after I had seen her burning something there at midnight."

"I recalled her words 'Ashes every one. If only the first had never been conceived this horror would not have descended upon us. She had known from the start what her brothers were doing. None of her brothers knew until just before the explosion came that she had been wise all the time, they thought she believed that mythical tale of an inheritance and I could kick myself accepting it without verification but Wells had taken it for granted and so did I."

"It's no worse than me!" Scottie remarked consolingly. "Why didn't I see that tattoo mark on Andrew's arm when he took off his coat there in the garden just before Miss Hawks appeared? One of us sure my back was too hot but I was there to keep my eyes on him and everybody."

"How did you first guess that the Hawks woman knew Andrew for an impostor?"

"It happened to be in the hall when she ran out of the house like a mad woman after a tete-a-tete with Andrew and the next minute she upset the table and scalded his arm. It wasn't a bad burn and it occurred to me that it was just an excuse for a bandage."

Miles' face sobered. "Gray was the real brains of the scheme. It was he who wrote that devilishly satirical lecture and forced poor Roger by anonymous threats to deliver it. He who wrote the other anonymous letters, one of which he slipped into the house by means of a French window which Andrew had left open for him and left on the hall table the night of my arrival to be mixed with the mail next morning when I concluded it was some member of the household. He disguised his voice for the telephone threats which so agitated the family, but he cannot figure out how Roger Drake penetrated his habitual disguise."

"Roger did, then?" asked the other.

"Oh yes, it was the shock of that which caused his stroke."

"Gray had a sort of half-labors to go back of his cottage and he was putting about in it when Roger called. Just as he approached, Gray removed his wig and Roger saw that the elderly naturalist was really a young man in disguise. The logical reason for it came over him with a rush and his only thought was to get home and warn his brothers, but he was stricken with the word unuttered upon his lips."

Miles rose. "That papyrus was curious, wasn't it?"

"It was an example of remarkably poor judgement on Roger's part. Picture writing or no, if it was as you say, a complete record of the way they made their counterfeit money," remarked Scottie.

"It was more than that, an example of the Drake conscience working overtime," replied Miles. "Roger had designed it in the nature of a confession to his intimate friend, Professor Masterson, though when Osborne ransacked the storeroom he hoped to find something more tangible."

"There is one thing that still is dark to me," Scottie pulled at his pipe, and finding it dead laid it on the mantel. "How did Osborne and his confederate know that the paper-making machine was buried under the summer house?"

"They only knew it was hidden somewhere, for the real Andrew must have talked a bit more in his dying ravings than Osborne told and I fancy they hoped to find the whole paraphernalia so that they could make some more of the queer and shove it themselves."

LARGE REDUCTION IN SHIP CONSTRUCTION

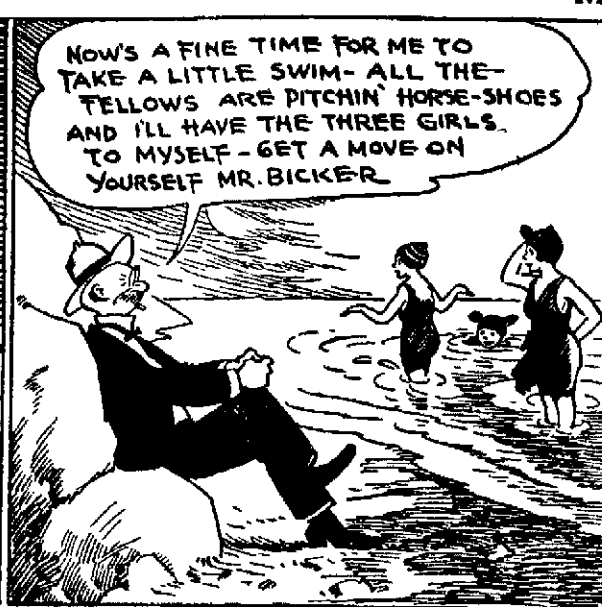

By Associated Press
London—Lloyd's Register reflects depression in the shipbuilding world. For the quarter year ended in June there was a decrease of 216,000 tons in ships under construction in the United Kingdom as compared a year ago. Also work has been suspended on 431,000 more tons. Tonnage launched during the quarter is 135,000 less than in the March quarter.

Construction abroad also shows material decrease.

APPLETON VALLEY TEAM PLAYS FOND DU LAC SUNDAY

Fahlstrom Will Play In Right Field Sunday

Earl Howard To Pitch for Appleton—Kinney on Mound for Fond du Lac

Appleton's Valley league team will clash with the Fond du Lac outfit at Brandt park Sunday afternoon. The Papermakers' lineup is all set and appears to be a strong one. The only change made since the game of last Sunday, when the locals defeated the Neopit Indians' aggregation is the addition of an outfield man, Carl Fahlstrom, Appleton man and former star athlete of Appleton high school will play in rightfield. Fahlstrom has a fine athletic reputation and is a speedy fielder and good hitter. The many Appleton fans who know Fahlstrom will welcome the news of his addition to the team.

Having settled the matter that Howard will do the hurling against the Fountain City team takes a load off the management's mind and puts the anxiety of the team's followers at ease. For a time it was feared that the star moundman would be kept out of the game by the league's ruling but now that he has been reinstated the team is assured of having a pitcher who will be a match and to spare for Kinney who will work for Fondy. The other positions will be filled by the men who appeared last Sunday. Tesch will at first, Goodman at second, Bergerino at short and Zelinski on third. The outfield will be well covered by Duran, Friebe and Fahlstrom.

BENNY LEONARD TO SAIL FOR EUROPE

Will Take Mother and Sister on Extended Tour—Might Meet Europeans

By Associated Press
Michigan City, Ind.—After engaging in possibly one more title contest, Benny Leonard, world's lightweight pugilistic champion, plans to sail for England in quest of new opponents and to give his mother and sister an European trip that he has planned on since he took the championship from Eddie Welsh.

Leonard, according to announcement from his training camp here Friday, plans to sail for England about September 15 for an indefinite stay. He will meet Ever Hammer of Chicago in a 10 round bout here Saturday afternoon.

He has been offered $50,000 for a 20 round bout with Ernie Fritze, British titleholder and also is negotiating for a contest with a German lightweight in Berlin. Before sailing, however, Denny may engage Pinkie Mitchell, brother of Richie Mitchell, in a 10 round contest in Milwaukee August 25.

RALPH SHINNERS GOES TO TOLEDO

Milwaukee Professional Ball Player Is Well Known by Appleton People

New York—Ralph Shinnery, the outfielder for whom the Giants gave Indianapolis a big sum of money and several players, passed out of the big league on Thursday and in the same motion John McGraw yanked Lee King, once with the champions, back into fast company. For the present Shinnery will call Toledo his home. He was sent to the American Association club under an option, and it is probable that McGraw will recall him for another inspection next spring.

In the early part of the season Shinnery won the center field berth after a sharp struggle with Bill Cunningham and Casey Stengel. He played regularly until Columbus. George Smith, of the Phillies, hit him on the head with a pitched ball.

This sent Shinnery to a hospital in Cincinnati and when he got out Stengel had attached himself to the mid-field position. The Indianapolis flash was hailed by Jack Hendricks as the best young fielder he had ever seen but his hitting and fielding were a disappointment to McGraw.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

More than one well known sporting writer termed the stalling tactics adopted by the Yankees in Tuesday's game against the White Sox, a bit of poor sportsmanship, but good business. By taking a broader view of the matter, however, it is seen that stalling is not even good business. For even the mighty Yankees are relying for their bread and butter upon the humble fan. And the humble fan protested in no soft tones against the Yank tricks. Such tricks, repeated often enough will mean the end of the baseball. And that is why Miller Huggins did not perform like a good business man Tuesday.

Benny Leonard has had a mighty tough life these last few weeks, and it seems the worst is yet to come. After three hard fights recently, the slick haired son of Abraham is carrying more than one sore spot on his

LOCAL FAN THINKS VALLEY DIRECTORS ACTED TOO RASHLY

Believes Green Bay Baseball Team Should Not Have Been Ousted

The recent ousting of the Green Bay league baseball team from the circuit has aroused much comment among the fans of Appleton. Some of the fans believe that the action taken by the league's directors was a bit hasty and T. H. Ward is voicing this opinion in the following letter:

Sport Editor Post-Crescent: Surprising as it may seem, the Fox River Valley league is about to see the beginning of the end. The elimination of Green Bay from the Valley circuit was an unwise move and was uncalled for at this time.

Although it is true that Green Bay should have had the consent of the Appleton management to pitch Howard, this matter should have been overlooked as was the case when Appleton secured the services of the Black Sox. Then Oshkosh, the loudest kicker, secured the services of a Milwaukee pitcher by the name of Rose from the Brewers to down the Kaukauna team. Had Oshkosh been leading the Valley circuit and Green Bay holding the cellar berth, this matter then would not have been of any consequence. As it now seems, President Klumwin and Manager Stoeckbauer of Oshkosh are managing the Valley circuit.

The elimination of Green Bay from the Valley circuit, was a source of much dissatisfaction among the followers of the league and they disapprove of such action. Reinstating Green Bay and give them a chance. Much has been read about the Valley league adopting organized baseball ruling. However, such a move would be welcome. But it cannot be done at the present time unless the majority of the Valley teams dismiss the contract jumpers from organized baseball and apply strictly to organized baseball ruling.

Some fans claim that the Outagamie league has more organized baseball ruling than the Klumwin circuit. Possibly so.

T. H. Ward.
Followers of the Valley teams who have the same or contrary opinions on this matter are invited to send in letters for publication.

Can He Whip Leonard?

Michigan City—Doing the unexpected gave Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight, a crack at Benny Leonard's crown when Benjamin wasn't even considering anyone as a contender outside Charley White and Lew Tendler.

Hammer gets Leonard in a 10-round no-decision contest at Michigan City, Ind., on Aug. 5, making the champion's fourth battle in 40 days.

He hammered out a victory over Richie Mitchell at Milwaukee. Richie spent most of his evening on the padded carpet.

Then Hammer hooked his star on to White's wagon for a match at Aurora, Ill. White took the bout lightly, boxing Johnny Dundee and winning decisively four days previously. Instead of finding Hammer the ghost of what he once was he found the Viking battler more ferocious than a young wildcat.

Hammer crossed the dope. He matched the famous Charley White left hook with another just as dangerous. In the ninth round he clipped Charley on the button. White dropped. He was up before the referee could start counting, but there was a sag in his trim legs. White stumbled and was almost on the canvas a second time before being able to hang on and weather the round in a clinch.

That knockdown gave the bristling blonde the newspaper decision.

19TH HOMER FOR RUTH AS YANKEES BEAT CLEVELAND

New York Makes It Three Straight Games Won Over Indians

Cleveland—New York made it three straight from the Indians by winning Friday's game, 7 to 5, due principally to Cleveland's loose fielding. Babe Ruth got his nineteenth home run of the season in the seventh inning and scored Dugan ahead of him. He also made several spectacular catches. The first three men to face Morton were franked to first, but failed to advance. Witt was given a base on balls, but was caught off first; Dugan was hit by a pitched ball and when he tried to advance on a short passed ball was thrown out. Ruth also walked, but Pipp tapped to Morton and was thrown out. Score: New York .023000200—7 12 4 Cleveland .010021001—5 13 8 Batteries: Murray, Kaufman and Schang; Morton, Mails, Uble, O'Neill and L. Sewell.

BROWNS CLOUT MACKS
St. Louis—In a long distance swat fest on Friday the St. Louis Browns defeated the Philadelphia Athletics for the second straight time, 3 to 4.

Out of the twenty-five hits made by both teams fifteen were extra base drives, including home runs by Tobin and Collins. Although slightly out-hit the Browns slammed out the most extra base hits. Score: Philadelphia .010100200—4 14 12 St. Louis .004401000—3 9 11 Batteries: Harris, Ogden and Perkins; Bruggy, Van Gilder and Collins.

GRIFTS BEAT SOX, 3-2
Chicago—Washington defeated Chicago for the third consecutive time on Friday, 3 to 2. Zachary held the White Sox to two hits in the first eight innings, during which time he did not permit a runner to reach second base. He was hit safely three times in the ninth for Chicago's only runs.

Two of Washington's runs were earned off Robinson, and the third, scored in the ninth, was due to a wild throw to first by Mulligan. Score: Wash. 010001001—3 8 0 Chicago 000000002—2 5 2 Batteries: Zachary and Picinich; Robinson and Schalk.

TIGERS BLANK RED SOX
Detroit—Daus had the best of a pitching duel with Pennock on Friday, and Detroit defeated Boston, 2 to 0.

The Tigers bunched four hits with a stolen base for their two runs. It was the Tigers' eighth straight victory. Score: Boston 000000000—0 8 0 Detroit 001000100—2 9 2 Batteries: Pennock and Miller; Daus and Woodall.

B. & J. TEAM PLAYS AT APPLE CREEK
The Bohne and Jens baseball team will go to Apple Creek Sunday to play the village aggregation. The Creek team has lost but one game this season. The Clothiers contend that they have one of the strongest amateur outfits in the vicinity, having lost but three out of twelve games played. Managers of other amateur teams are invited to get in touch with William Drexler, B. and J. manager, and arrange for future games. A challenge also is issued to the West End Merchants and the Toy Company of America team.

Milwaukee—Ned Allis and Dick Cavanaugh, each five times state golf champion, were to meet in the finals Saturday to ride the state championship.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Left Fielder Lewis and Shortstop Michaels of the Cedar Rapids team of the Mississippi Valley league were sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Pitcher McCracken was sold to the Detroit Tigers.

Toledo—Nedda trotted a mile in 1:53.4 over the Grand Circuit track. This is a world's record, as Nedda made the fastest mile ever trotted by any horse without a pace maker.

GIANTS AND CUBS SPLIT DOUBLE AND N. Y. LOSES LEAD

Sensational Rally in Ninth Inning Brings Win In First for Chicago

New York—The New York Giants lost first place in the National league race on Friday, dividing a double lead with the Chicago Cubs. A sensational ninth inning rally enabled Chicago to win the first game by a score of 3 to 2. New York defeated the veteran Alexander in the second contest, 2 to 1. The former Boston pitcher, McQuillan and Scott, pitched the double header for the Giants. Score: Chicago 000000001—1 7 0 New York 000110000—2 6 0 Batteries: Alexander and O'Farrell; Scott and Smith.

PHILLIS LOSE TO CARDS
Philadelphia—The St. Louis Cardinals by taking their second straight victory from Philadelphia on Friday, 9 to 7, went into the lead. Williams, Mokon, Leslie and Stock each knocked out a home run. Zeb Sherdel and Singleton were battered freely, but the former tightened in the pinches. Score: St. Louis 115100010—9 13 1 Philadelphia 002001022—7 12 1 Batteries: Sherdel and Ainsmith; Singleton, G. Smith and Henline.

TRAILING THE TEAMS
St. Louis teams Saturday were leading both major league baseball races.

The Cardinals, by taking their second straight victory from the Phil lies 9 to 7, ascended to the top when McGraw's Giants split a twin bill with the Cubs. The Browns, in a game of 25 hits, 15 of which were for extra bases, defeated the Athletics 9 to 4 and maintained their one game lead over the Yankees, who with Ruth's nineteenth home run of the season, were victorious over the Indians, 7 to 8.

Two former Boston hurlers, Hugh McQuillan and John Scott, hurled for the Giants in the two games against the Cubs. McQuillan, held up by brilliant support for eight innings, became too generous in the ninth and the Cubs, with three runs, won 3 to 2. Scott held the Cubs to seven hits in the second game, winning 2 to 1 over the veteran Alexander.

Babe Adams, "the aged" allowed 3 hits in eight innings to Brave batters and the pirates won 3 to 0. Rain saved the game for Adams in the ninth after Powell had hit a home run and two men, on second and third with two out. But then the game reverted to the eighth. The Brooklyn club lost a heavy hitting affair to the Reds, 6 to 5.

Cobb's Tigers with Daus hurling well, defeated the Red Sox 2 to 0. It was Detroit's eighth straight victory. Washington won its third straight from the White Sox, 3 to 2. Zachary allowing the Chicagoans but five hits.

Toledo—Nedda trotted a mile in 1:53.4 over the Grand Circuit track. This is a world's record, as Nedda made the fastest mile ever trotted by any horse without a pace maker.

NED CAVANAGH AND ALLIS SLATED FOR GOLF MEET FINALS

Ned Cavanaugh Defeats Sixty, 3-2; Allis Trims Chick Allen, 4-3

THIRD ROUND
Ned Allis (County Club) defeated W. D. Martin, Jr. (Kenosha), 6-5.

Billy Sixty (Milwaukee) defeated D. A. Marteson (Janesville), 3-2.

C. C. Allis (Kenosha) defeated Jimmy Mack (Milwaukee), 4-3.

Dick Cavanaugh (Kenosha) defeated Ken Dickhosen (Appleton), 4-3.

SEMI-FINALS
Ned Allis defeated Billy Sixty, 3-2.

Dick Cavanaugh defeated C. C. Allen, 4-3.

Ned Allis of the Milwaukee Country club, five times state golf champion, and Dick Cavanaugh of the Kenosha Country club, also a state champion on five different occasions, will meet in the finals of this year's tournament on the course of the Milwaukee Country club on Saturday. The meeting will be the fifth of the pair, each having won from the other in the finals twice.

Allis won his way into the final round on Friday by eliminating Billy Sixty in the semi-finals, 3 up 2. The match ended on the sixteenth hole when a nibble from the rough by Sixty rimmed the cup. Cavanaugh defeated Chick Allen, a clubmate from Kenosha, to gain a place in the final round. The score of the match was 4-3, the fourth victory of the tournament for Cavanaugh by that score.

In his match with Allis, Sixty had only one break, that on the sixth hole, when a drive out of bounds bounded back onto the fairway. All other breaks were against the Municipal park golfer of the Milwaukee club. Three times he was stymied, his shots took bad bounces, and putts repeatedly hung on the edge of the cup. On the stymie on the eleventh hole, Sixty played a cut shot and sank a two foot putt.

Cavanaugh was the sensation of the semi-final round: His drives as usual had wonderful direction and distance, and his putting was the best of the tournament. Four putts of better than fifteen feet, one of them close to thirty feet, were holed by the big Kenosha player.

LEONARD MEETS WINNER OF BARRETT-WHITE GO

New York—Terms were arranged Friday for a championship match against Benny Leonard for the winner of the fifteen round bout between Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, and Bobby Barrett, Philadelphia, which will be conducted Monday night at the Velodrome. Billy Gibson, manager of the champion, is reported to have consented to such a match before his departure for Michigan City last Wednesday. His Doran, manager of White, and Jimmy Dougherty, Barrett's manager, informed Matchmaker Frank S. Flournoy on Thursday of their willingness to arrange a title contest, contingent upon the outcome of Monday night's scrap.

The Cardinals, by taking their second straight victory from the Phil lies 9 to 7, ascended to the top when McGraw's Giants split a twin bill with the Cubs. The Browns, in a game of 25 hits, 15 of which were for extra bases, defeated the Athletics 9 to 4 and maintained their one game lead over the Yankees, who with Ruth's nineteenth home run of the season, were victorious over the Indians, 7 to 8.

Two former Boston hurlers, Hugh McQuillan and John Scott, hurled for the Giants in the two games against the Cubs. McQuillan, held up by brilliant support for eight innings, became too generous in the ninth and the Cubs, with three runs, won 3 to 2. Scott held the Cubs to seven hits in the second game, winning 2 to 1 over the veteran Alexander.

Babe Adams, "the aged" allowed 3 hits in eight innings to Brave batters and the pirates won 3 to 0. Rain saved the game for Adams in the ninth after Powell had hit a home run and two men, on second and third with two out. But then the game reverted to the eighth. The Brooklyn club lost a heavy hitting affair to the Reds, 6 to 5.

Cobb's Tigers with Daus hurling well, defeated the Red Sox 2 to 0. It was Detroit's eighth straight victory. Washington won its third straight from the White Sox, 3 to 2. Zachary allowing the Chicagoans but five hits.

Toledo—Nedda trotted a mile in 1:53.4 over the Grand Circuit track. This is a world's record, as Nedda made the fastest mile ever trotted by any horse without a pace maker.

FACTORY TEAMS PLAY POSTPONED GAMES NEXT WEEK

K-C and Combined Locks Play August 5—Two Contests Staged August 12

Two postponed games of the Industrial league will be played off before the close of the league's season.

The Valley Iron Works team is scheduled to meet the Kimberly-Clark team from Saturday, August 12, at Kimberly. The K-C outfit plays the Combined Locks team Saturday and it is possible that the league's championship hinges upon this contest.

Combined Locks has not lost a game while the Kimberly team dropped but one so if the K-C aggregation can come out of Saturday's battle the victor there will be a tie for first place.

The Valley Iron Works team has a chance to accomplish the unexpected and defeat Kimberly thus making Combined Locks the champion with out further play.

Another postponed contest that will be staged is that between the Fox River Paper Co. and Toy Co.

Airplane Bungalow Popular

Copyright, 1922, by the Architects Small House Service Bureau.

The airplane type of house derives its name from the fact of the similarity of the roof to the wings of an airplane. The roof is low pitched and covered with canvas with prominent ridges, which increase the likeness to the airplane. The projection of the cornice is surmounted with a large cupola, which again resembles the cabin of the airplane operator. While this type of house has been popular for some time on the west coast, it is gradually making its appearance in other sections of the country.

The house shown here provides fire rooms and a bath on the ground floor. The upper story a bedroom and sleeping porch to be finished off if the home builder desires.

This house will require a rather wide lot, and, in an attempt to get the features of a bungalow with two bedrooms or the first story, it has been necessary to spread the house over more ground area.

In many ways this home combines the virtues of a bungalow with the convenience of a two story house.

Instead of the type of roofing as shown in the illustration, shingles or tile may be used if the home builder desires and if climatic conditions demand.

The first floor is compact in its arrangement. The abundance of windows permits plenty of sunshine and air. The living room is a real one. A fireplace on one side and a bay window opposite are features. The dining room has an entrance upon a grassy terrace. You will find plenty of closet room in this house. The kitchen has been planned to economize steps and save labor. The ice box is provided with outside icing door. A full basement extends under the house.

One advantage of this house is that the bedroom which adjoins the living room can, if the owner desires, be converted into a living room extension, thus increasing the living room quarters 11 feet. Home Builders Clinic, Copyrighted A. S. H. S. B.
